

How it works

Your travel trainer will discuss your public transport needs, plan the best route and accompany you on practice trips, with further sessions if you need them.

The service is personalised and flexible, helping you deal with any challenges and matched with the best transport options.

The cost

You are eligible for up to 3 training sessions, at no cost, and later you can have a second free round of up to 3 sessions for a different route.

If you require additional training, Easylink is a Registered NDIS Provider of travel training and other transport solutions.

Easylink Travel Training is available to individuals and groups.

FREE

Travel Training is a FREE service

For bookings and more information contact our friendly team:

02 9919 0700

www.easylink.com.au

Email: traveltraining@easylink.com.au

Telephone Interpreter Service: call 131 450

Easylink
Travel Training

Public transport
made easy

02 9919 0700

www.easylink.com.au

 Registered NDIS Provider

Travel Training is supported by funding from Transport for NSW
Printed July 2020

What is Travel Training?

Travel Training is a free service that teaches adults and children how to use public transport safely and independently, whether they are a new user or would like to learn a new route.

If you want to catch public transport to travel to school, study, work, appointments or see friends, our travel trainers can help you develop the confidence and skills to make it happen.

You can also book a speaker for your group, at no charge, to talk about using public transport.

You can learn about:

- › catching trains, buses and ferries
- › using an Opal card
- › how to plan trips
- › which services to catch
- › where to get on and off
- › safe road crossing
- › accessible services
- › travelling safely
- › strategies to deal with emergencies
- › using public transport apps
- › where to find information

*“My son is ok to travel on his own now.
That is so heartening to hear. I no longer need to drive him to and from work.”*

– Mum of a young man with autism

Who is it for?

The service is for adults and children, living in the Northern Sydney region. It is available for anyone who does not have the confidence, information or experience to use public transport. Free interpreters can be arranged.

You may be:

- › a person with disability
- › at school or doing work experience
- › starting study, training or work
- › an older person
- › a migrant or refugee
- › a carer
- › driving less or no longer driving
- › living in a new area
- › of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander origin

Our travel trainers are experts in teaching the use of public transport to people of all ages, regardless of the challenges they face.

We specialise in teaching people with all types of abilities, such as intellectual disability, autism, anxiety, learning delays, mental health issues, cerebral palsy and mobility issues.